Working inclusively across industries and cultures – Muriel Buri

MSc in Biostatistics, UZH, 2014 – 2016

Co-Organiser of the Zurich R User Group @meetup.com since 2015

Zürich R User Group

PhD in Computational Biostatistics, UZH 2016 – 2020

Senior Statistical Scientist working at Roche since 2020

Sponsoring responsible, and member of the Code of Conduct (CoC) response team @userR!2021

…

Working inclusively across industries and cultures – Muriel Buri

S E T T I N G	Local Zurich R User Group @meetup.com ● Largest useR group based in Switzerland: ~2100 members ● 2-4 events/per year counting >80 attendees/event ● Only in-person	Global userR!2021 conference ● first R conference that was global by design, both in audience and leadership with very diverse backgrounds ● Only virtually ● Accessibility, diversity, and inclusion
L E A R N I N G	★ Broad network opportunity across industries, academia, and companies ★ Frequent exchange with diverse R enthusiasts outside and inside my own interest areas ★ New job opportunities, new friends, new ideas	★ Code of Conduct (CoC) Training ★ Asynchronous communication skills (e.g. slack sprints) ★ Being part of a very diverse committee: "Nothing about us without us" (age, disability, career stage, gender identity, geographic origin, language, neurodiversity, race, religion, sexual orientation, …)

References:
● Blog about the Zurich R User Group: https://www.r-bloggers.com/2021/05/find-out-about-the-r-community-in-zurich-switzerland/ (last visited 14 JUN 2023)
● Code of Conduct from useR! 2021: https://user2021.r-project.org/participation/coc/ (last visited 20 JUN 2023)
● Joo, Rocío, Andrea Sánchez-Tapia, Sara Mortara, Yanina Bellini Saibene, Heather Turner, Dorothea Hug Peter, Natalia Soledad Morandeira et al. "Ten simple rules to host an inclusive conference."
  PLoS Computational Biology 18, No. 7 (2022): e1010164. https://doi.org/10.1371/journal.pcbi.1010164